The information below, effective January 1, 2007, has been updated since the second edition of the Colorado Property and Casualty Insurance License Exam Manual.

1. Assumed Names [10-2-701]

Any insurance producer conducting business under an assumed name, including a trade or fictitious name, must register the name with the insurance commissioner.

- a. The commissioner will not accept registration of any name that
 - is similar to another currently on file;
 - would tend to be misleading to the public; or
 - is identical or similar to the name of any producer whose license has been revoked or suspended.
- b. Every insurance producer licensee must promptly file with the commissioner a written notice of any change in or discontinuation of the use of any name.

2. Guaranty Association

The section on the Colorado Property and Casualty Guaranty Association has been removed from the content outline and will not appear on the state licensing exam.
